

Unbeaten Jaguar Cats From Deep South to Provide Gridiron Opposition . . . Gators Play in Fruit Bowl Sunday

HIGHLIGHTS OF CURRENT EVENTS

By BILL DENNIS

A story appearing in the press recently states that the American Labor Party has accused Defense Secretary Forrestal of attempting to compile a list of names of people who voted in the recent elections for Henry Wallace. The ALP accusation claims that the purpose of this alleged investigation is to create "a blacklist covering the nine industrial areas where the Progressive Party received its strongest support."

The story itself has its origin in a complaint filed with the Attorney General's office by the ALP. A spokesman for Secretary Forrestal replied to the charges. He said "The defense establishment does not have any interest in who voted for Wallace. Anyone who did so was merely exercising his right to vote."

LOOKS CHEESY

Commenting editorially on this story, one of our local dailies had this to say: "This charge made apparently with some seriousness to the Attorney General, is as cheesy a piece of leftist propaganda as the American people have been assailed with in quite some time. Any intelligent person knows it is impossible for the Defense Department or anyone else in government to find out who voted for Wallace since all a voter has to do is tell the official questioner to go to hell and mind his own business."

In this writer's opinion, this editorial is an even "cheesier" piece of propaganda. It gives the reader an entirely false picture of how any department of government, so minded, would go about procuring evidence concerning how individuals voted. Further, it reminded us of certain other investigations conducted recently.

STILL REMEMBER

We are not so short memorized that we've forgotten how 10 people from Hollywood told a group of government "officials" to go to hell and mind their own business when asked in effect how they voted. Those 10 people are now under federal indictment, the final outcome of which is still unknown. So far all that has happened to them is that they have lost their jobs.

We do not mean to imply by the foregoing that we believe the charges levied by the ALP. We are not, by the same token, inclined to entirely discredit them. It is all too probable that there is a measure of truth in these charges. An alert and honest press would investigate these charges and publicize their findings, preferably NOT on the editorial pages.

Post-Season Tilt Slated For Kezar

By JOE HEATH

Undefeated, untied Southern University of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, invades Kezar Stadium Sunday at 2 p.m. to collide with the State eleven in the second annual charity Fruit Bowl tilt. Upwards of 20,000 football followers are expected to witness this battle between the juggernaut of the nation's Negro

No Ducats Needed For Card Holders

State student body card holders will be admitted free at Kezar Stadium through Gate 28 for the Fruit Bowl game Sunday.

The Gator rooting section will be located directly under the press box, and will be the only section open to all students admitted with a student body card, according to Phil Ryan, activities commissioner.

Ryan expressed the hope that the rooters will wear white shirts or sweaters, rooter caps and carry pom-poms.

Students wishing to buy rooter caps can obtain them at the price of $1 in the Student Bookstore, or the Student Body Office, Hut 4-A.

The game will be broadcast over Station KLX.

FIRST BOWL GAME

The contest will mark the first time that either team has engaged in a post-season bowl game.

Standouts for the Cats are triple-threats Warren Braden and Willie Phillips. The swivel-hipped pair pace the Bayou school's razzle-dazzle running and passing attack.

Coach Boyle has been drilling the State gridgers on pass offense and defense this past week, hoping to retaliate with an aerial attack of his own, with Barney Greenberg and Don Lowart on the hurling end.

REGULAR PRICES PREVAIL

Students can gain admission through showing their student body card. Reserved seats are $3.60 and $2.40; general admission, $1.80, and children under 12 will be admitted for 50 cents.

Part of the proceeds will go to the Fanny Wall Home for Negro children in Oakland and to the Student Loan Fund at State College.

Future Teachers Interview Set

Candidates for elementary teaching positions in the San Francisco public schools will be interviewed at 93 Grove Street next Tuesday through Friday.

In order to arrange interviews, it is necessary that each candidate interested should notify the San Francisco Office of Personnel, naming the day and hour most convenient for an interview. These written requests for interviews on the designated days will be answered and final arrangements will be made by mail with each candidate.

Candidates must meet the following requirements:

1. Candidates shall not have passed their 35th birthday by July 1, 1949.
2. Candidates must possess a regular, valid, elementary teaching credential by February 7, 1949.
3. Residence in San Francisco is not required during the housing emergency, unless otherwise specified by the school department.

Frosh Coed to Compete In Race For Bowl Queen

Elberta Henderson, State College freshman, was chosen along with 15 other Bay Area girls to compete for the title of Queen of the Fruit Bowl in the football competition between State College and Southern University, Sunday at Kezar Stadium.

Miss Henderson recently competed in the Portola Contest for Queen of the Negro Colony. She is active in campus activities, and is pledging for the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

Big NSA Convention Attracts Students From 16 Colleges

More than 100 students, representing some 16 West Coast colleges, met for a two-day National Students Association regional convention at the University of California, November 13-14.

Delegates, alternates and observers were called to order in the Stephen's Union Building at 10 a.m. Under the direction of Don Dickey, Cal's NSA chairman, Erskine Childers and Jack Knox, co-chairmen of the region, and Richard Haggie, vice-president of Student Life for the National Office, the conference got under way.

It was constantly stressed that the confab was to be a working conference, and was exemplified by dividing it into different panels: Purchase Card, General International, Domestic-local, Domestic off-campus and California Centennial Fiesta.

George Allen, member-at-large from State College and NSA Purchase Card regional chairman, headed the Purchase Card panel. State had a representative in each panel.

Open discussion was the theme for the working panels. And it was generally considered by the panel chairmen that the purpose they set out to achieve, that of forming concrete plans to work on, had been accomplished.

Erskine Childers closed the convention with a note of confidence: "We have accomplished our purpose," he said.

'41 Graduate Commended In Letter to College

Mrs. Alma Downey, placement secretary, recently received a letter from Suffolk University in Boston, Mass., commending Clyde E. Curran, graduate ('41) of State.

"... We were quite pleased," the letter stated, "with the relative ease with which our new faculty members adjusted themselves. It is with pleasure that we call to your attention... Dr. Clyde E. Curran... who has been appointed assistant professor of psychology and sociology."

Confab Draws Faculty

Miss Edna Fisher, associate professor of biological science, will attend the next regular meeting of the Association of California State College Instructors tomorrow in Sacramento.

Inklings Issue Date Moved Up

Publication date for Inklings, college literary magazine, is once again the X factor for the winter issue, the editorial staff disclosed this week. Extended copy deadlines and printing difficulties are both contributing to move the opening sales date up on State's calendar.

The overall size of the magazine has been reduced to 20 pages in an attempt to speed up the publication process, and although all copy and art work is set up and printed, other angles of "Operation Inklings" are not dovetailing as expected, they said.

A six-member board of judges to award the five-dollar prize for the best Inklings contribution has been tentatively selected by the staff, and will include three faculty and three student members. Keen competition is expected in the awarding of this semester's prize due to the high caliber of material to be featured in the magazine.

Workshop Concert On Tap Monday

Members of the Composers' Workshop and various composition classes will present their semi-annual concert at 8:15 p.m., Monday in Frederic Burk Auditorium.

Open to the public, the musicale will be conducted by Wendell Otey, associate professor of music, and William Ward, assistant professor of music. Sponsored by the Music Federation and the Division of Creative Arts, admission is complimentary.

Both students and faculty will perform their selections. Among these are included numbers featuring clarinet, flute, bassoon and oboe.

Spring Counseling By Faculty Members Starts January 10

Students will be advised on programs for the Spring semester during the week of January 10. All program counseling will be done by faculty members.

Those persons who have filed their majors will be advised by faculty members in their particular field of study.

Freshmen in the General Education program will be counseled by the lower division program advisor to whom they have been assigned.

Students who have not filed forms indicating their majors will be advised by a selected group of the faculty designated as "Advisors to Unclassified Students."

Time schedules for the Spring semester and a handbook of program information will be available immediately following the Christmas holidays.

Tickets Selling For Cheer Week

Shopping for tickets to the Christmas Cheer Week dinner to be held December 16 must be done now. Only 250 tickets selling at $1.50 are available, the Humanities Club announced this week.

State Five Defeats 49ers

Paced by Johnny Burton's 18-point barrage, State's fighting hoop quintet overcame an 18-point half-time lead to upset the power laden California National Guard 49ers, 54-52, Wednesday night at Kezar Pavilion. Ang Maestri rang up 17 points to closely follow Burton in the Gator scoring.

Board of Directors Considering . . . Plan to Change Financial Set-up

A plan which would change the financial set-up of the Associated Students was considered by the Board of Directors November 23, and last Tuesday.

If the plan passes, a federated society will be formed of groups within the Creative Arts Division.

This organization, the Creative Arts Production Board, would include the Art Club, College Theater, Radio Guild and Music Fed.

The Creative Arts Division in the past has attempted to form an organization which could be a part of the Associated Students while still operating independently.

To achieve this end, a 10-point financial plan has been devised which stipulates:

1. All organizations approved

TODAY Sales Close For Journal

Franciscan sales campaign deadline has been set by the Board of Directors for today. Sales to date have been very slow, and unless there is $1500 turned in from sales to the Student Body office by 5 p.m., there will be no 1949 Franciscan.

Yearbooks may be purchased from individual salesmen in the Golden Gater office, or at the booth in front of the Co-op. Books are selling for $3 with student body cards and $4 without. Payment on the Franciscan may be either partial or full amount.

Earl Homan, student body president, made the following statement in regard to the campaign: "Franciscan sales are rapidly drawing to a close and the quota has not nearly been met. One of the best ways to retain memories of your school is through the purchase of the Franciscan. Your purchase not only shows spirit and interest, but also intelligence and satisfaction. Your student officers highly recommend the yearbook and give it their utmost backing. We trust you will, also."

3 Day Conference On World Affairs

Second annual World Affairs Conference is being held today through Sunday at Asilomar.

According to Monroe E. Deutsch, president of the council, the theme of the conference is "Positive Alternatives to Communism." There will be two highlight forums introduced by outstanding speakers on the topics: "Meeting the Soviet Challenge," and "A Positive Role for the United States in World Affairs."

Among the speakers to take part is President J. Paul Leonard, who acted as chairman of the conference.

EDITORIALS

Well, What About It?

The fiscal year is almost half over, and soon student body elections will be upon us again. Now is a good time to take stock, to look at what has been done this semester and realize what has not been done. Let us review the campaign promises of last Spring. Have they been fulfilled or have they gone the familiar way of similar predictions of the past?

What has happened to the "friendly relations" with other college student bodies which were established last year? How many confabs, other than NSA, on outlying campi have been attended by State student delegates?

Where are the discounts at local theaters, Seals Stadium, and other amusement spots which student body card holders were promised last Spring?

How many general assemblies for information on, and discussion of, student government have there been this term?

Has there been a marked increase of publicity on student body activities? What has happened to the part State was playing in the federation of State colleges last year?

How does the budget look? Is it written in red or black ink? Are student body cards really worth the eight dollars? Hm?—E. E.

Students Create National Forum

By AL MARTINEZ

On the campus and in the nation a drive has begun. A drive that is bringing to the front the wishes and the aspirations of over a million students. The drive is in the form of an organization: National Students Association.

"We the students of the United States . . ." For the first time in collegiate history an organization has the right to utter those words in the preamble to its constitution. National Students represents the American scholar.

The conception of a national organization of American students was started by 25 college members who saw something similar abroad. The plans were formulated on various campi throughout the nation. And at the national convention in Madison, Wis., in the Spring of '47 it was given life.

But the creation of the organization did not stop there. Instead, it spread slowly, improving as it developed. At last, after months of preparation and speculation, its birth was announced for public surveillance. And with the nod of public approval it grew and is growing. It is now in the process of perfection.

National Students Association has begun on the campus. But its purposes and functions have been lost in the obscurity of its quiet beginning. It is the object of this column and the wish of the NSA committee on the campus to make known their particular policy and the policy and aims of the national organization. In the weeks to follow, we hope to accomplish our purpose.

State Plays Role In Audio-Visual Set-up in Mexico

Something new will be added to Mexico's national education program in the way of audio-visual education this coming January. Playing a major role in the phenomenon is San Francisco State College.

As a result of training completed at State College by four students from Mexico, a department of audio-visual education is to be set up below the border.

Purpose of the venture is to educate by ear and eye, through the media of films, those masses who are unable to read or write.

The four students who were trained at State and who will initiate the department are: Alicia Ulloa, an elementary teacher; Louis Borjan, an engineer; Ignacio Del Castillo, an educator; and Dr. Daniel Espinosa, director of public health in Mexico.

The students came to the college in '47, with little knowledge of the English language, and received their training under Alvin Gordon, who was hired by the college especially to teach the course because of his command of the Spanish language.

Mr. Gordon operates a private firm, Contemporary Films, and has knowledge of the problems confronting Mexico's educational program, having lived in that country a number of years.

Mexico's gratitude to State College recently was expressed through a letter from that nation's undersecretary of state.

Homan: Function Of the Bookstore

In this series of articles we have discussed various boards of Associated Students and now are entering upon the various organizations sponsored by the Associated Students.

There are four employees of the Associated Students active in managerial positions. They are managers of the Cafeteria, the Bookstore, Printshop and the administrator of student affairs.

Miss Sally Wilde, who is the Bookstore manager, has been with State some 13 years in that capacity. She has built the store up from a small business mainly of text books to the present shop of gifts, stationery and school supplies.

This store is operated in the interest of the students and to supply their school needs. Perhaps the main function is to supply the necessary books and materials for all classes.

Naturally, this involves a close co-operation between the Bookstore and faculty. The store is set up as a convenience to students and to their class work needs.—E. H.

Watch For Inklings

State's literary magazine, Inklings, is in the process of production at this writing. The magazine, a 20-page edition, represents contributions in the form of poetry and verse writing by State students.

Watch for date of release, due soon!

JEST A MOMENT...

Of Misery and Men...

SHORT STORY: "Why give up a meal ticket?" asks a female columnist. "In the old days men were frank about it. They needed wives to give them material comforts, to cook and sew for them and to create the necessities which could be produced only in the home. Love was a secondary consideration. Today a permanent meal ticket is a boon to the woman, even when it comes in the shape of a stout, bald, not-so-charming husband. . . . What can you expect from a Republican?!!!"

HEAVEN HATH NO RAGE: A sullen lad from Los Angeles is suing his ex-fiancee for the return of his engagement ring. In turn she is suing for gifts and money spent to the tune of $1300 . . . What is this thing called Love?

OH! ROBERT: Guess the scandal hasn't hurt Robert Mit- chum any. He seems to be gaining popularity. And you know what? In "Blood on the Moon" the producers permit Bob to roll his own . . .

Ringmen to Swap Leather With Ram Mittmen Tuesday

By ED LEVITT

State's boxing squad will invade City College with fists flying high Tuesday night, when the Gators tangle with the Rams in practice matches.

Making the Ocean Avenue trek will be 23 mittmen—most of whom will enter the ring for the first time. The bouts, if anything, should furnish the answer to one paramount question:

Do the Gator fisticuffs have it this year?

Chief drum beater for the Staters is Coach Ward Carr.

The new Gator mentor has been tutoring his fistic aspirants on the fundamentals of the trade—namely, how to jab, hook, fake and fend off blows.

Placing number one in all these departments in early workouts is Gene Abramson, 137 pound boxer.

According to word from State's Beak Busting Boulevard, Abramson has been looking exceptionally sharp.

Coach Carr has been impressed also by the showings of newcomers Dick Boyd, 158 pounder, and Cleveland Given, 160 pounds.

In a recent gym session, Given exchanged blows with the lighter but more experienced Jack Campbell. During the slam-bang skirmish, Campbell connected flush on Given's jaw, resulting in wobbly legs for Cleveland and one of his teeth being jarred from its moorings. But the Given boy, the gamester that he is, was back in there throwing leather the next day.

Members of the Gator squad have been attending the Golden Gloves as guests of Eddie Muller, Examiner's boxing editor.

Coach Carr feels that the team has been learning a lot watching the simon pures cut loose their dynamite.

State's next match, following the Rams, is with Chico (there) on December 14.

Juniors Capture Field Hockey Title

By FLORA AUYONG

Under the coaching of Miss Dorothy Brett and Mrs. Helen Ogilvie, field hockey proved to be the team sport on Women's Athletic Association's activity list. On Mondays and Tuesdays, 12 noon, participants turned out for tournaments.

During the recent intramural season, held on the upper and lower fields, junior team members, co-captained by Scoop Tullis and Jeanne Contel, downed Freshmen, Sophomore and Senior challengers for the team title.

Championship honors are shared by wings, Audrey Reid, Mariann Bruneman, Shari Shurbet; center forward, Miss Tullis; halfbacks, Evelyn Bjuestad, Catherine Cain, Fran Brien, Tannan Auyong; fullback, Jeanne Contel, and goalie, Alice Brehl, who proved most invaluable in that position.

Spearheaded by veteran members, WAA pucksters triumphed over Dominican College, 2-0, on November 23 at the San Rafael campus in the last of intercollegiate competition in this sporting event.

In the first half a flick by right wing, Peg Rombach, scored for the Gators. The local group was held goalless in the second half until 5 minutes before the final whistle, when center forward Scoop Tullis added the final tally from five yards out.

Stopping the many Dominican scoring attempts were the ever present Jeanne Contel, College of Pacific transfer, Cathy Cain and fullback Barbara Lutz.

SPORTS BEAT

By GORDON RADDUE

Two members of State's great pre-war basketball teams, Emil Fanfelle and Carl Gustafson, are now firmly established as educators at Everett Junior High School. Gustafson, who was Jim Keating's running mate at guard, is handling straight PE courses at the local grade school, while Fanfelle is dividing his talents among teaching science and PE, in addition to guiding the reins of the Everett basketball team.

"Amy" is still active on the hardwoods, cavorting at forward for the Y. M. I. team under Carl Minetti, for whom he also played last season in a San Francisco Athletic Club uniform. Another ex-Stater on the Y. M. I. crew is Bill Cummings, who wore the Purple and Gold during the 1946-47 season. Cummings recently became the co-owner of a fashionable Van Ness Avenue thirst emporium. He's in business with his dad, Bill Sr.

At last report, the high scoring Southern University aggregation that goes against State in the Fruit Bowl Sunday "eked out" a 38-12 win over previously undefeated Florida A. & M. If you want to get technical, the game revealed two possible weaknesses in the Jaguar Cats eleven. One is that they have trouble converting after touchdowns and the other is that they can be scored upon.

Though practically nothing is known out here, actually, about the Southerners, what little we have heard concerning them leads us to suspect that the game will be fairly close, with no feasible basis for determining beforehand which team will emerge victorious. Being the first inter-racial clash in football history, the game certainly packs plenty of intrigue, but more important, its success can go a long way in helping to break down silly racial barriers that exist in the world of sports.

Coaching grade school football in Sylvan, about 10 miles from Sacramento, is Bill Kennerley, who performed on the gridiron for State in 1945-46. Kennerley guided his eighth grade school boys to 10 victories this year, despite the fact that injuries cut down the squad to as low as 15 members at times.

Jayvees Test Prep Meshers

By TERRY SWEENEY

Led by Jack Shienberg with 39 points in three games, San Francisco State's Jayvee hoopers have won three in a row rather handily and expect another win today as they tangle with Sid Phelan's Washington Eagles.

Nearly three deep at every position, the Jayvees, capably coached by Ray Kaufman, opened their season auspiciously, trouncing Golden Gate College, 50-39.

Shienberg controlled both backboards and hit 15 points, while Homer Zugelder, Earl Homan, Curt Forsman, Al Bristo and John Dilg played creditably.

Next on the list came Dolphin A. C., coached by Jim Wong. The Gators coasted to an easy 53-29 win, every man on the bench seeing action. Al Bristo scored 10 points to lead in scoring, while Howard Schinnerer and Earl Homan tallied eight apiece, followed closely by Dick Silva and Shienberg with six.

The next game was a farce as far as basketball goes. The Gators were off in the first half, but rallied in the final stanza to crush Notre Dame A. C., 60-43. Due to injuries, the clubmen fielded but five men.

Schienberg and Bristo hit 19 and 12 digits, respectively.

GRIDIRON GRIT

Reserves Beaten In Holiday Battle

By JOE FINNIGAN

On Thanksgiving Day the State varsity reserves plus the Jayvee first string traveled south to Reedley, Calif., for a Turkey Day encounter with Reedley J. C., which triumphed, 6-0.

A long pass put the Reedley faction on the State two-yard line, from which they bounded over for the only score of the afternoon. The Jayvees and Varsity were used as separate units, except for certain instances when they were mixed for defensive play.

The Reedley score came at a time when the Varsity was playing as a group on defense. The deepest penetration into enemy territory was made when the Jayvees were operating on offense.

On two occasions the efficacious passing combination of Quarterback Ray Enjaia to Ends Bud Coll and Owen Kashevaroff put the Gators within 10 yards of paydirt.

In their last regular contest of the season, State's jayvees were defeated by a strong Santa Rosa contingent, 13-12, on the latter's home field.

Enjaia and Sal Solina uncorked TD heaves to Herb Osuna and Coll, respectively, for Gator scores.

Bear Cagers Use Height For 69-56 Win

By EARL GOLDMAN

California's Golden Bears, a mere shadow of last year's championship team, came out on the top end of a 69-56 score over a hard fighting, determined San Francisco State quintet last Friday night at Berkeley.

California's superior height proved to be the difference between the two teams, as Bob Walker, Bear forward, leaped high above State's defense time and time again to tip important points through the cords, and Dick Kretzinger, Cal's rebounding center, showed impressively on the backboards.

BURTON STEALS SHOW

"Jumping Johnny" Burton, State's great forward, was a definite scoring threat every time he got his hands on the ball. The diminutive ace potted six long field goals and seven out of nine free throw attempts for a total of 19 points, which was tops for the night's play. Ang Maestri dropped 15 points through the hoop to garner second honors. Bob Walker and Les Dean tallied 14 and 12 digits, respectively, for the Bears.

The Golden Gators took the lead immediately following the tip-off when Maestri handed the ball off to Gus Skoufos, who drove in for a layup. But the lead was short-lived. Within three minutes Cal had hiked the score up to 10-2. But the Gators, undiscouraged by this show of strength, came back on two pivot shots by Maestri and a layup by Tex Williford to bring the count to 10-8.

BEARS PULL AWAY

Within a few minutes State had narrowed the score to 14-13, but that was the closest they came during the remainder of the contest. When the teams left the floor at the half, California had a safe ten point lead—38-28.

Though State never came within eight points of Cal during the second half, the Bears totaled but three points more than the Gators during that period, and when the final gun sounded the scoreboard read—California 69, San Francisco State 56.

Mural Basketball Started This Week

Action in intramural basketball got under way yesterday with games scheduled at the Women's Gym, Salvation Army courts and the small court adjacent to the tennis grounds. Twenty-one teams are entered in the competition, which is divided into four leagues. The hoop sport will not interfere with touch football, according to Bill Harkness, director of intramurals. The grid sport is in its closing weeks, with the Vikings and Agatheans setting the pace in the American League and Kappa Omega and Mather Maulers deadlocked for first place in the National League.

Hoop Quintet Has Rugged Opposition For Coming Week

By AL MARTINEZ

State's aggregated Burton-Jaensch & Company basketball team trek to Stockton this p. m. to do battle with the fast-breaking quintet from COP. The tipoff is scheduled for 8:30.

The inaugural tilt between the two teams will see COP's two front men, Pfister and Proulx, try to outdo the Gators' potent forwards, namely, Burton and Jaensch. All four wield a ball that seems to have an affinity for the basket.

On the Tuesday following the Tiger-Gator tilt, State's casabers will meet the men from Pasadena College on the Kezar Pavilion hardwood.

Two days later the revitalized or devitalized Staters are slated to lock horns, in their hectic schedule, with San Jose State's aggressive five. The Spartans barely missed the laurels in their tilt with highly-touted Calif. National Guard 49ers, the final score being 55-51. Ace Spartan forward Don McCaslin, the sophomore who connected for 25 points against the 49ers, should prove bothersome to the Gators.

State's probable starting lineup will be Burton and Jaensch, forwards; Angelo Maestri, center; and Tex Williford and Gus Skoufos, guards. Lineups for State's tri-team opponents are doubtful.

Holden Shatters AAU Track Mark

John Holden, varsity two miler, won the National Amateur Athletic Union championship 15 kilometer race in Berkeley last Sunday.

Holden's time of 47:57 set a new course record over the nine mile distance, which compares favorably with former national records.

Holden was sponsored by the Olympic Club in the race sponsored by the Pacific Association AAU and the Berkeley Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Berkeley YMCA.

Soccer Team Meets Dons
